Dear Clerk of the House:

In response to the letter dated March 18, 2015 (copy enclosed), I am writing to amend my 2013 Financial Disclosure Statement. The amendments to the statement are as follows:

- Schedule II - Assets & "Unearned" Income, 3a:
 - The Lending Club is a corporation headquartered in San Francisco, California that offers micro loans to customers. It is not a publically traded. The Lending Club is an online credit marketplace. Investors create and transfer money to an online investment account. Those monies are used to fund loans made to customers/borrowers. Investors receive monthly payments of principal and taxable interest income as borrowers repay their loans. Investors may reinvest the payments or withdraw.
- Schedule II - Assets & "Unearned" Income, 6:
 - Investment in Manulife Financial Stock
- Schedule V - Agreements:
 - Employees' Retirement System of the State of Hawaii (government defined benefit pension plan). At the time this disclosure was submitted I was not collecting a pension from the State of Hawaii. The pension should not have been listed on the disclosure. I retired from the State of Hawaii on December 1, 2014 and collected my first pension payment in late December 2014. This is a pension plan based on my prior employment.

Please contact me should you require additional information or clarification.

Sincerely,

Mark Takai
Member of Congress
